Weiss asked if the board had questions about utilizing Zoom for the virtual meeting. No action required.
- B. Citizens wishing to address the Board. Jane Estes, Chair. As of the deadline, no persons were signed up to speak on items other than what was posted on the agenda. No citizens were present to address the board. No action required.
- C. Announcements regarding arts and culture. Jane Estes, Chair. Meurer-Sobhani announced Georgetown ISD events such as a virtual Anastasia play and visual arts scholastic events. Library Director and Arts and Culture Board liaison Eric Lashley is retiring from the City of Georgetown after a 25-year career. He estimates that he attended roughly 75 Arts and Culture Board meetings over the years. Lashley has been a huge advocate for the arts and Georgetown and was crucial to the start not only of the City's Arts and Culture Board but also the Georgetown Art Center. Staff, board members and the arts community will miss his leadership and dedication to arts and culture in Georgetown. No action required.

- F. Consideration and possible action to award Arts and Culture Grants for the 2021 Round I cycle. -Amanda Still, Arts and Culture Coordinator. Board members and staff reviewed the grant proposals for events occurring April to September 2021. Still explained City staff recommended not awarding Faith in Action with a grant this round as they did not have a venue confirmed for their event. During the pandemic, securing a venue has been a challenge for other organizations and staff were concerned Faith in Action would have to return the grant if plans were not finalized and a venue secured. Following discussion about the proposals, motion by Meurer-Sobhani; second by Flatau to award arts and culture grants to the following organizations:

- a. Cardboard Cinema for the 2021 new theatre initiative ($1,500)

Financial Report of the Georgetown Art Works to the Arts and Culture Board of the City of Georgetown, Texas

for the Year Ending Dec. 31, 2020

Treasurer's Report on Preliminary Financial Statements for Georgetown Art Works for

Year Ending Dec. 31, 2020

The preliminary financial statements for the Georgetown Art Works for 2020 are unaudited draft results which may undergo material revision prior to release of final results for the year. The following comments are contingent on the current results. Footnotes to the financial statements identify the major components of selected items in the statements.

Financial Activity

Despite the many challenges of 2020—including the closure or limited hours of operation of the Georgetown Art Center from mid-March through August due to the impact of COVID-19—the Art Works experienced a gain in revenues of 3.5 percent. The Art Center is operated by the Georgetown Art Works under an agreement with the City of Georgetown.

This revenue increase reflected the combined impact of a fundraising campaign early in the year (before the pandemic cut the campaign short), much-welcomed emergency and other grants from the City of Georgetown and other funding sources, and full-occupancy income from rentals of studio space to local artists. Together, these sources more than offset a sharp drop in donations to the Art Works and in sales of art on behalf of area artists.

At the same time, expenditures fell by about 15 percent, largely due to the layoff and reduced hours of the Art Center's sole paid staff person during the closure/restriction of the Art Center.

Financial Position

While the Art Works ended 2020 in the strongest asset position of its existence, including $52,254 in its bank accounts—that result was accompanied by the impact of emergency loans on the liability side of the balance sheet. In aggregate, the Art Works took on shortand long-term debt totaling $23,500 in 2020.

On the plus side, with prudent management the infusion of cash put the Art Works in position to weather a much more severe and extended impact of the pandemic. Positive too are the highly favorable interest rate and payment terms of the largest loan, the $21,500 borrowed under the SBA's EIDL program. On the less positive side, the size of the new liability may impair the Art Works' ability to obtain future emergency loans over the 30-year term of the loan.

Accounting Operations

As part of its ongoing program to strengthen its financial recordkeeping, the Art Works has hired Silva Business Services of Georgetown, Texas to provide bookkeeping for the organization. It has also engaged the accounting firm Reynolds & Franke, PC, of Austin, Texas to prepare its tax returns and to provide accounting advice.
